

Stale Blood Affects Feelings

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood, Restores Healthy Glow

It is gradually, very gradually, that the effects of weakened blood become apparent. Generally there is a feeling of lassitude. It is like a harmless, lazy heaviness, and the complexion becomes muddy.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is the very first thing a woman should think of taking for a stale-looking complexion. It drives out the poisons that ruin complexions.

But it is not only the effect that Gude's Pepto-Mangan has upon the complexion that makes it so valuable. New healthy blood causes an improvement in feeling, a return to the usual style of enthusiasm, a sensation of warmth and glow, an appetite that eagerly awaits eating time.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes new blood. It comes in liquid, or tablet form, both having the same medicinal value. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on every package. Advertisement.

LAYMEN'S CONFERENCE FAVORS MORE RELIGIOUS PUBLICITY
Rev. Charles A. McAlpine of New York, a publicity man for the Northern Baptist convention, addressed a laymen's conference here Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock in the Sunday school room at the United Congregational church upon the subject of religious publicity.

Churches that were represented by delegations included the Central Baptist, United, Park and Greenview Congregational, Federated, Universalist and Trinity Methodist Episcopal churches.

At the conclusion of the conference the sense of the meeting was expressed by a vote on motion of James C. Macpherson that greater publicity along religious lines under the auspices of the laymen's conference for the united churches of Norwich. This expression will be conveyed to a ministers' conference which Rev. Mr. McAlpine will address this (Monday) morning.

James L. Case introduced the speaker, after first calling upon Deacon C. Edward Smith to offer prayer.

Rev. Mr. McAlpine reviewed his subject after announcing that his text would be "Neither do men light a candle and place it under a bushel." He asked three questions: Has the church something to advertise? How can it advertise? How shall the church advertise? He answered the first two in the affirmative, and went on to say that the church can ever take the place of the speaker in the opportunity of the enlarging and extending the message of the church is immeasurably increased today by the printed word.

He said that the church knows more about us through the eye. Why has the church limited its message to the ear? The speaker referred to the power of the printed word that had been demonstrated through the use of it in the war and said that as the church had the greatest thing in the world he considered that it could scarcely justify itself if it did not advertise. It should give a message in its advertising, not merely attempt to awaken curiosity. The speaker advocated a greater use of the printed church calendars through mailing them to the members of the church and distributing them at the services. He also advocated newspaper advertising, always bearing in mind the idea of putting out a message through it. He spoke also of the wide publicity given in favor to get the words of Jesus before the world.

A discussion of the suggestions made by the speaker closed the meeting.

BROUGHT OUT BOTTLE
In sight of policeman

A half dollar on the bar and a man coming out of a rear room with a bottle of "Black & White" was the scene that confronted Sergeant John H. Kane of the local police force Saturday night as he walked into a soft drink establishment at No. 4 Central avenue conducted by Salvatore Colaninelli.

Colaninelli went into the place to inquire who the proprietor was.

As he stepped into the place he saw a man standing before the bar and a half dollar in the hand of the man sitting at the bar. Colaninelli, who was most at the same moment Mick Colaninelli, 23 years of age, appeared on the scene from a rear room with a bottle said to contain whiskey.

Colaninelli was arrested shortly afterwards by Sergeant Kane and Officers J. Carroll and P. Murphy, the charges being violation of the liquor law.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carville and Mrs. Ellen Trow, all of Poquonock Bridge, are at the Backus hospital suffering from injuries received when the trolley car in which they were riding crashed into a trolley car at the intersection of Broadway and Williams avenue Saturday afternoon.
